Truman Steps Up Relief

Fifth Army Moves In With Equipment To Help Break Snow Blockades

By The Associated Press

The army moved in Saturday on the worst blizzard disaster areas of the west for "the biggest bulldozer operation since the Ledo road."

Given virtually a blank check by President Truman for "the relief of this area," the fifth army brought in personnel and more heavy equipment to break the snow blockades in the Missouri river basin.

Clear cold weather, meanwhile, spread over most of the blizzard-stricken west.

The weather was a boon to expanding rescue efforts, but an additional hardship for hungry, snow-stranded livestock.

The cold wave, which extended east to the Atlantic, also relieved the present threat of major floods in the midwest.

Will Ask for More

The President authorized Defense Secretary Forrestal to dip into funds set up for river and harbor control to speed relief work in the distaster areas. Forrestal can spend for blizzard relief such funds as are available in the military establishment.

The President will ask congress for a supplemental appropriation to replace blizzard relief funds spent by the military branches. He also sent to congress a request for a supplemental relief appropriation of $500,000.

Maj. Gen. Lewis A. Pick, who directed wartime construction of the China-Burma road, was placed in charge of storm relief work in all the Missouri basin except Montana.

Big Job in Omaha

At Omaha, he described the job ahead as the biggest since the Ledo road. Gen. Pick is the Missouri river division engineer.

Planes, bulldozers, helicopters, tractors, weasels, jeeps and huge primitive sleds already are at work in the disaster area. Now, however, General Pick will have the assistance of scores of private contractors, many of whom have been working on Missouri basin development dam building projects.

The contractors will supply some men and many of the machines. The army engineers will supply additional machines, and the fifth army additional personnel.

General Pick placed his engineers on a 24 hour a day basis and said "every available resource at our command will be thrown into this fight to break the snow blockades and bring relief to suffering people and livestock in the snowbound area."

Executives in Charge

Under the presidential order, Maj. Gen. Philip Fleming, federal works administrator, will be coordinator of federal relief activities in the disaster area. C. W. Anderson, divisional federal works agency engineer, from Kansas City, was named coordinator to supervise storm relief work in Nebraska and South Dakota.

Two air force helicopters, brought in from Kansas, flew over snow-clogged Nebraska communities on relief missions. The two helicopters will be used principally in transporting doctors to their patients and visa versa.

National Guard Mobilized

Two Nebraska National Guard companies were mobilized for relief and rescue work. They will supplement four other guard companies which have been on duty since early in the month.

Another blizzard which whipped across Nebraska Friday, set back relief work. The storm set up new road blocks before bulldozers which were traveling to other areas still blocked by old snow. At least 135 bulldozers have been assigned to the blizzard area and more are on the way.

Farther west in the Utah-Nevada-Arizona disaster area favorable weather aided airmen and ranchers getting food to snow-stranded livestock and humans.

Thought For Today

If we will measure other people's corn in our own bushel, let us first take it to the Divine standard, and have it sealed.—J. G. Holland.

Indications For Weather Are Now Good

KANSAS CITY, Kan. 29—(AP)—Forecaster Burton Handy at the U. S. weather bureau here issued the following weather advisory late today:

"Indications are now good that the conditions which have caused the severe weather in the middle west for the past several weeks ar now at an end.

"A return to normal winter weather can now be expected, with only minor disturbances moving across the northern states. Fair weather is quite certain to continue from Texas to the Dakotas for the next two days, with temperatures moderating rapidly, especially in the north central states.

"Readings Sunday will approach the freezing mark in Missouri, Oklahoma, Kansas and Nebraska, and the 20s in the northern tier of states."

Hay is Flying Through to Hungry Cattle

Despite Sub-Zero Visibility, Motor Trouble and Ice

ELY, Nev., Jan. 29—(AP)—The hay came flying through to eastern Nevada's starving livestock today despite "zero-zero" visibility, motor trouble and a heavy "pogonip."

U. S. Air Force pilots encountered all three handicaps in theri "haylift" missions today, but the operation was expanded anyway to use four Nevada landing fields.

"The "pogonip," a piute Indian word meaning "white death," shrouded everything with ice in the vicinity of the Tahoe-Minden airport where a new group of C-82 cargo planes from Greenville, S. C., started operations.

"Frozen Fog"

The airmen called it "frozen fog" and went on flying.

The "zero-zero" visibility and motor trouble developed at Fallon, where 17 of the huge planes have used the naval air station as the loading base for 347 tons of hay flown into this area since last Monday.

The first flight of hay-loaded planes took off from the Fallon base with one one-eighth mile of visibility, and one of them had to be eased back to the runway through the murkiness when a fire developed in the right motor.

At the Ely airport, dropping of hay to snowbound stock was speeded up considerably through formation flying.

Follow Lead Plane

At the start of the haylift operation, each plane would land to pick up a rancher who could navigate by instinct to his sheep bands or cattle herds 50 to 100 miles away on the snow-drifted ranges.

But now only one plane lands. The others in the three or four plane formation stay in the air and follow the lead plane to the dropping destination after it pi[illegible]s up the rancher.

Meanwhile, a 19-truck convoy sent by the California National Guard to help here stopped at Reno to await winter flying clothes.

Police Help In An Emergency

Otto L. Meyer, 1206 East Eighteenth street, went to the garage at his home Saturday morning to get his car out to take his wife, an expectant mother, to the Bothwell hospital. The temperature was two degrees below zero and the car wouldn't start.

Probably a wrecker could pull the car out and get it started, he thought, so he called first one, then another, then another, but all were busy, or for some reason not available.

He then called a taxicab and asked them to send a cab immediately but that too was impossible. No company had a cab that could make the trip at once.

In desperation Meyer called his physician, Dr. Gordon Stauffacher. The doctor realized an emergency existed and called police headquarters, asking them to send a car to the Meyer home.

The police department lost no time. Mrs. Meyer was hurried to the hospital in a police car and right to the delivery room, where immediately at 11:04 o'clock, she gave birth to an eight pound, one ounce son.

Late yesterday both the mother and son were getting along fine.

Important Meeting For Retail Merchants

There will be a meeting of the Retail Merchants Association on February 1, at 7:15 p. m., Chamber of Commerce office, to further discuss the Saturday night closing hours, the program for "Democracy Works Here" and other business.

All merchants are asked to be present at this meeting to voice approval, disapproval, or suggestions.

Four Killed In Collision

MULDROW, Okla., Jan. 29—(AP)—A train-car collision on the main street here killed a 5-year old girl, her father and two unidentified men tonight.

Two other young girls injured in the car were taken to a hospital in nearby Fort Smith, Ark., in serious condition.

GOP Member House Speaks Here Saturday

Carl G. Schrader Presides at McKinley Banquet

"If the Republicans don't hang together solidly and consistently through this 81st Congress, we're 'dead ducks'." Representative Dewey Short, Missouri's only Republican member of the House, said while addressing a crowd of 125 men and women at the twenty-fourth annual William McKinley Day banquet, in the Ambassador Room of the Bothwell hotel, Saturday night.

The program was opened with the attendants singing "The National Anthem" with Miss Geraldine Teufel, accompanist. The Rev. B. B. Bess gave the invocation. During the dinner hour, a male quartette, composed of A. V. Domingue, A. A. Taylor, Dean Binderup, Charles Maggard with Miss Lillian Fox, accompanist, sang several numbers.

Carl G. Schrader, Republican county and city committee chairman, introduced Rep. Short, who is serving his ninth term in the House from the Seventh District, and is now serving on the Armed Services committee. His home is in Galena, Mo. He has recently returned from Europe, where he viewed the International situation. He spoke in Kansas City Friday night, and will make an address in Dayton, O., Monday night.

Great Problems Ahead

The speaker said, "There are great problems that confront us, not so much as Republicans, but as citizens. I hope we can avoid war. I cannot conceive, nor imagine, a more colossal blunder than an armed conflict between two powerful states, Russia and the United States. I don't know where we're going to end if we don't cut down on government expense and cut down on taxes. The people have to realize the government can't give them anything that it doesn't take from them. All we have now is 252 billion dollars of debt."

"The war has left us supreme among great powers. We've got to assume world leadership, but let us use practical sense. Until the United Nations becomes more firmly established and we have an international police force to carry out its decisions, this nation, out of shear self defense, must remain strong on land, sea and in the air."

Rep. Short said he thought that the 70 Air Group, would be passed. He thought the Universal Military training is not necessary, since the air force and navy are getting all the volunteers they need.

He asserted that the was definitely against peace time suscription, but strong for national defense.

Blame Selves for Defeat

He blamed the Republicans defeat on themselves. "Our failure was not in principles but in our failure to get the message across to the people." He said. Dewey didn't discuss the issues.

He mentioned several instances why, in his opinion, the Democratic party won the election. "Two million, two hundred thousand civilians were on government payrolls, multiply that by two or three persons in a family. Secondly, organized labor, and the unions, and a promise to repeal the Taft-Hartley Act. Third, the midwest farmers, who are traditionally Republicans voted Democratic because they didn't want to change—they liked 30 cent hogs, and 35 cent cattle. It was a coalition between the farmers and labor which helped defeat the Republicans. Also when Wallace's campaign fizzled, and minority campaign groups voted for Truman and deserted Wallace."

Another reason why the Republicans lost the election," he said, . "they were too cocky, and over-confident and didn't get out and vote. I don't blame the Democrats for our defeat, I blame only the Republicans."

Stork Traveled Faster Than Truck

BLACKFOOT, Idaho, Jan. 29—(AP)—Mrs. Allen Tenema, 17-year-old Fort Hall Indian and expectant mother, hitch-hiked from the reservation to a hospital, but the stork traveled faster.

Mrs. Tenema's seven pound baby was born in a milk truck. The temperature was below zero, but mother and child were reported in good condition.

The truck reached the hospital a few minutes after the birth.

FSA Ready to Use Stamp Plan for Housewives, Farmers

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29—(AP)—Housewives and farmers: Be prepared to become tax collectors—as well as taxpayers—under President Truman's proposed expansion of the social security program.

Servants and farm workers, even the once-a-week cleaning woman and the seasonal apple picker, will be among the 20,000,000 (M) earners added to the social security rolls if Mr. Truman's program becomes law.

A stamp book plan has been devised to garner the "payroll" tax from domestic help and their employers.

Self-employed persons—whether author, cobbler or operator of a popcorn stand—would make their contributions along with income tax returns.

Simple And Workable

J. Donald Kingsley, assistant Federal Security Administrator, told a reporter today that FSA has developed what it considers "simple and workable" plans to collect the tax from those it is proposed to add to the old age pension coverage.

Unless Congress decides otherwise, Kingsley said, FSA is ready to put this plan into effect in homes and on farms:

The housewife buys social security stamps at the postoffice. They show wage denominations from $1 to $100. They also show the cost of the stamp—two cents for a $1 stamp at present tax rates; or 1 percent each for employer and employe.

Carry A Stamp Book

Each maid or cook carries a stamp book. When she is paid, the housewife pastes the corresponding amount of stamps into the book. If a garner earns $6 for a day's work, the householder pastes in a $5 stamp and a $1 stamp. Together they cost 12 cents.

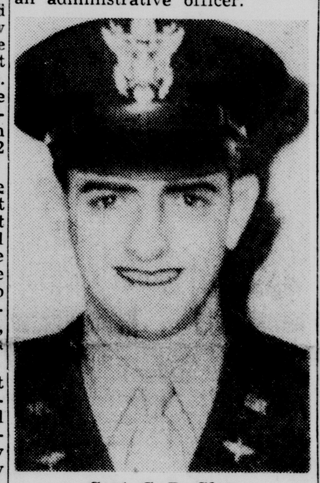

The housewife, in paying the wage, deducts half the cost of the stamps. The tax thus is shared; six cents is paid by the gardner, six cents by the employer.

The tax may be higher by the time the system goes into effect. Mr. Truman has recommended that it be increased to 1½ percent each on July 1.

Every so often the employe sends his stamp book to the social security administration, which credits him with the earnings toward his old-age pension, and sends him a new book.

Capt. Glass is Assigned to Europe Area

Captain George R. Glass, who received his commission as captain, and took the oath of acceptance Friday, is now on his way to Camp Kilmer, N. J.; reporting there on February 1 for assignment to the European theater as an administrative officer.

Capt. G. R. Glass

Mrs. Glass, the former Miss Helen Barnes, and daughter, Cynthia Ann, aged 18 months, will remain here with Mrs. Glass' mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Barnes, 1306 West Sixth street, until Captain Glass can arrange for them to join him in Europe.

Capt. Glass came to Sedalia during the war from Miami, Fla., and was stationed at the Sedalia Army Air Field. He spent 16 months in the China, Burma, India area during the war. He returned to the service in February, 1947, as a Master Sergeant and was assigned to the recruiting office in Sedalia. Later he was assigned to the Boonville sub-station.

He applied for his commission which he received last week.

Spring to Tell Whole Story

By The Associated Press

It will take the spring calf roundups and the spring lambing to tell the whole story.

But it seems certain now that January's blizzard blitz on the western rangelands will cost cattle and sheep producers millions of dollars in dead beef and wool animals, shrunken calf and lamb crops and woeful loss of weight among cattle and sheep that do last until the range grasses turn green again.

Most stockmen and other authorities insisted Saturday that accurate estimates of losses are impossible at this time. This is so for the very reason that sheep and cattle have starved on the snowy plains ranchers just can't penetrate to the areas where their animals are stormbound.

Many ranchers are certain their losses would be much higher if it were not for the hay, cottonseed cake and other feeds dropped from low flying air force planes.

Report Tremors, Also Thumping Noises, Blasts

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 29—(AP)—Hundreds of residents along the south edge of Kansas City tonight reported earth tremors.

The sheriff's office, and the Kansas City Star were flooded with calls from persons who said they had heard "thumping noises" and "blasts."

There was no official explanation of the phenomena.

A woman residing about 12 miles northeast of Sedalia called the Democrat-Capital late Saturday night, and reported she and neighbors around that vicinity heard blasts at intervals, resembling dynamiting. Some Sedalia shoppers from north of the city, also reported Saturday morning they heard similar noises.

News Briefs

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29—(AP)—The Army, appealing to President Truman, wants the administration of the U. S. zone of Germany turned over to the state department as soon as possible, it was learned tonight.

Army Secretary Kenneth C. Royall urged the switch in a formal recommendation to the White House.

Neither the White House nor state department, however, wants to rush through any quick change in the American setup in Germany, a political and economic battleground in the cold war.

General Lucius D. Clay reportedly is again pressing officials here to be allowed to retire as military governor, but President Truman is represented as anxious to keep him on the job a while longer.

NANKING, Jan. 29—(AP)—The Chinese Communists coldly told acting President Li Tsung-Jen today he must arrest Chiang Kai-Shek as a war criminal or "you will be punished" without mercy.

The Communist radio in North China accused Vice President Li of "conniving" in the flight of government leaders from Nanking. It wanted all other government officials on the Red list of "war criminals" arrested.

Since Chiang and almost all others on the list long since have gone south, it is impossible for acting President Li Tsung-Jen to comply, even should he wish.

BERLIN, Jan. 29—(AP)—Brig. Gen. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, famous police official, today took charge of a drive a drive to crush a smuggling racket which has mushroomed in western Germany.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, U. S. military governor, announced he had assigned Schwarzkopf, his deputy provost marshal, to find and plug the loopholes through which $200,000,000 (M) worth of goods is smuggled across the border annually.

Year and a Day Sentence for Monett Jurist

Convicted of Filing False Income Tax Return

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 29—(AP)—A sentence of a year and a day and a $2,000 fine was imposed today on Emory E. Smith of Monett, Mo., former circuit court judge convicted of filing a false and fraudulent federal income tax return.

Shortly after the sentence was pronounced by Federal Judge Albert A. Ridge, the 58-year-old defendant was taken to the Jackson county jail and dressed in as any other prisoner. The only concession granted him was the substitution of milk for coffee at the noon meal.

Altohugh Judge Ridge recommended that the veteran southwest Missouri jurist be confined in the U. S. Medical Center at Springfield, Mo., final decision rests with the bureau of prisons.

Smith, who had served on the 24th judicial district bench in southwest Missouri for 20 years, was indicted on six counts, covering alleged income tax violations between the years 1942 and 1947. After a week's trial at Joplin earlier this month a federal court jury acquitted him on five of the counts and convicted him on one. This count alleged he paid an income tax of only $2.41 in 1944 when he should have paid $2,376.19.

He attempted to make a plea for clemency as he stood before Judge Ridge today, but he was unable to complete the statement when his voice became choked with emotion.

He then broke into tears, saying:

"I don't think it would be possible for anyone to suffer more than I have already."

As he did at his trial, Smith declared there was "no intent on my part to commit a wrong," and added:

"I have no guilty conscience in my heart and I know that I had no intent to make a false income statement."

No Breach As A Jurist

In assessing the penalty, Judge Ridge said he was not primarily concerned with the fact that Smith had been a judge. He said the trial was not for breach by Smith of his duties as a jurist, but for failure to pay a legally established income tax as a citizen.

In a brief review of the case, he described the offense as one "of an aggravated nature."

"The defendant's claim of ignorance of his tax obligations is not in keeping with his ability and the character of his intelligence," the judge continued.

"When considering the welfare of the community, the court cannot overlook the fact the defendant held an exalted position of trust."

"The welfare of the community," the judge said, "requires that some positive penalty be meted out in this case."

When the court announced the sentence, Smith was shaking visibly. His son, Ralph Smith of Midland, Tex., placed his arms around the shoulders of the trembling man.

The grand jury in its indictment charged that Smith had forced his former court reporter Mrs. Virginia Butler Sullinger, to "kickback" some $8,000 in salaries and fees.

Mrs. Sullinger filed a $10,000 damage suit against Smith, but the case has not come to trial. It is now set for the April term of the Taney county circuit court.

Smith, a Republican, had served two terms as prosecuting attorney of Barry county and had served a year as President of the Young Republicans of Missouri.

Tulsa Plan in Chicago

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—(AP)—The "Tulsa plan" for mass evictions in protest against rent control has spread to Chicago—but a judge says it won't work.

Some 750 Chicago landlords who said they own 98,000 Chicago rental units voted overwhelming last night to withdraw their property from the rental market.

Coach Volney Ashford, whose Missouri Valley Vikings ran up a string of 41 consecutive wins, will be in Sedalia Tuesday to address the noon luncheon meeting of the Optimist Club at the Bothwell Hotel.

White House Repairs May Cost 7 Million

Wonder it Hasn't Caved in On Some President's Family

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29—(AP)—It's a wonder the White House hasn't caved in on some president and his family, architects said today after touring the 149-year-old structure with reporters.

It may cost as much as $7,000,000—that's right, seven million dollars—and 18 months time to fix it up and make it safe. The entire interior, everything except the shell of outside walls, is to be replaced.

This means that President Truman and his family will have to live in nearby Blair House until mid-1950 or later, depending on when the actual work can be started.

They moved out of the White House a couple of months ago when the ceilings began to crack and the floors started slumping noticeably.

Estimate From Architect

The $7,000,000 estimate on the repair bill came from Lorenzo S. Winslow, White House architect. The original guesses had run up to about a million dollars, but that was before structural experts found out how badly weakened the old building had become.

On a cellar to attic guided tour, Winslow and an assistant showed newsmen how interior walls had settled toward the center of the house, cracking ceilings and causing floors to sag.

Test digging showed how this happened. The interior brick walls had no footings, but rested on soft clay earth. Without concrete foundations, Winslow said, they should have been sunk 20 feet to harder ground. Instead they were only five feet deep.

All of these walls are to be stripped out and built anew on sound foundations resting on concrete pilings.

Cracks In Outside Walls

There are some cracks in the outside walls, but these were described as not serious. Blackened bricks, plastered over after the British burned the mansion in the war of 1812, were in evidence where engineers had ripped through the plaster to check up on wall cracks.

In the state dining room, which the late Stanford White designed and paneled with 500-year-old English oak, remodeling work in 1902 had weakened a girder so that down through the years it had split a distance of four feet. The original paneling will be stripped off and put back on new walls.

Very Few Closets

Crumbling brick appeared over a window arch in the room where Abraham Lincoln signed the Emancipation Proclamation. President Truman's study nearby was shored up against a vibration noticed by Mr. Truman when soldiers marched in for a parade of colors during a reception.

Adding to the normal worries of a President and his wife is a lack of closet space. On the entire tour, reporters saw only one closet, in Margaret Truman's pink-walled bedroom. Everybody else uses movable wardrobes.

Demand Repeal T-H Law

Administration Submits Plans For Revising Basic Labor Act

By Marvin L. Arrowsmith

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29—(AP)—The Truman administration urged congress today to throw away the weapon of court injunctions for blocking national emergency strikes. It called instead for a voluntary cooling off procedure.

Formally submitting legislation for revising basic labor laws, the administration demanded repeal of the Taft-Hartley law and a restored Wagner Act bearing "improvements" President Truman wants.

Erasing the Taft-Hartley law would junk these familiar union restrictions:

The requirement that union officials must swear they are not communists if they wish to deal with the National Labor Relations Board.

The prohibition against political spending by unions.

The ban on the closed shop, which requires employers to take on only union members.

Fight Already Begun

Supporters of the Taft-Hartley law already have begun a fight to keep those and many other previsions of that act on the books.

The question of how to deal with "national emergency" strikes is one that has given officials charged with drafting the new bill considerable thought.

The Taft-Hartley measure dealing with labor-management relations, lets the government get 80-day court orders to prevent strikes that imperil the national health or safety—while mediators try to work out a settlement.

Administration officials debated for weeks whether to keep the injunction provision. Organized labor protested vigorously against it. The idea finally was dropped.

Emergency Boards Important

In national emergency strike threats, the new bill would depend mainly upon the moral force of recommendations by emergency boards—as in the railway labor act. While the boards are at work and for five days thereafter—a total of 30 days—the bill says both labor and management shall continue operations. But no injunction or penalties are provided in case they don't.

In fact the only injunctions allowed under the entire bill are those which the national labor relations board can get to enforce its "unfair labor practice" findings.

Certain boycotts and strikes of a "jurisdictional" nature (in which a union seeks to beat out another union to do certain work) are made "unfair labor practices" under the new bill. A union conceivably could be subject to injunctions in those cases—but only after the NLRB had found them guilty of violations.

Discussion Monday

The new bill was sent to the capitol by Secretary of Labor Tobin. He will discuss it Monday before the senate labor committee.

William B. Barton, secretary of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce's labor committee, said that while his staff has just begun to study the new proposal, "our first reading leads us to conclude that its provisions are very inadequate."

Wallace F. Bennett, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, said in Jacksonville, Fla., he hoped "both houses of congress will allow adequate time for complete hearings so that the final form of the legislation will be in the public interest."

The AFL and CIO, studying the administration's move, withheld official reaction.

Food Festival Opens Tuesday

Featured by a program chuck-full of down-to-earth information of practical interest to every homemaker in Sedalia and the surrounding area, the Food Festival School of Cookery will open a four-day session on Tuesday. This event will be presented as a public service by the Democrat-Capital and is free to everyone. All four sessions will be held at the Liberty theater, beginning at 1:15 o'clock every afternoon.

The success of this cooking school event is assured with the news that it will conducted by Miss Edalene Stohr, a member of the staff of the National Live Stock and Meat Board. With a fine background of experience in similar schools held in cities across the country, Miss Stohr can be depended upon to present a program of unusual interest to new brides as well as experienced homemakers. She has won a reputation for the efficient and interesting manner in which she carries on this work and this newspaper feels fortunate in being able to secure her for this school.

Blizzard Taught People a Number of Things

By Elliott Chaze

DENVER, Jan. 29—(AP)—Religion and formal education took a beating and folks drank more whiskey.

At Rockport, Colo., a mother paid a nickel for a buttered soda-cracker to feed her hungry baby.

Las Vegas, Nev., motorists paid as much as $100 a set for tire chains.

Uninvited wildcats prowled the streets of several northern Idaho towns. And at Salt Lake City, Utah, small bewildered bands of deer moved into town and commenced chomping the leaves off shrubbery in the residential districts.

A helicopter raced the stork from a Colorado farm home to an urban hospital.

These were but a few of the oddities caused this month when nature tossed a series of Sunday punches at the western states. Residents of a region which is not known for its balmy winters learned that most of the blizzards and cold spells of past years were simply a playful prelude to the big snow; the big white production of January, 1949.

Churches And Schools Closed

On several occasions churches and schools went out of business because of the 20-foot snowdrifts and temperatures which rattled down around the 40-below mark. In Utah alone it was estimated that 25,000 students missed at least a day's school attendance.

Only the skiers seemed pleased with the situation. The U. S. forest service announced there would be enough snow in Colorado to insure skiing until early summer.

The weather, despite its steady severity, failed to stop a big ski meet at Butte, Mont.

It did, however, stop the watches of the tourney officials, freezing the working parts. After the meet there was some question as to the winning times in the events.

Kind To Tavern-Owners

The blizzards were especially kind to tavern owners and to persons who ordinarily struggle for plausible excuses to drink. At Rockport, Colo., where 300 snow-stranded motorists and bus passengers were crammed into the shelter of a beer hall, business was fine. A cup of coffee sold for 10 cents. A cup of weak soup sold for 30 cents. The more standard refreshments of the place sold for regular prices.

John Gillies, 20, of Chicago, said in an interview that the jammed tavern was considerably like a "snake pit."

"There wasn't a square inch of space to spare on the floor," he said. "People slep in their clothes. They used the windows for doors. There were no sanitary facilities and the kids kept howling for something to eat, or to go to the bathroom."

Strolls Not So Simple

Take the case of 41-year-old Daniel Ryman of Cheyenne, Wyo. He used to think it was a pretty simple thing to stroll down to the grocery store and collect a bag of vittles. But the blizzard caught him between home and store. Visibility dropped to zero. He

When a beef shank is cut crosswise into thick juicy portions, a new cut of meat is born. Unfamiliar as this may sound, it's really just an old favorite in a new guise—pot roasts in miniature. For cross-cut beef shanks make perfect individual pot roasts, and thus add new variety to your menus.

Shanks of other kinds of meat are delicious, too, though they are often sadly neglected except by those who know really good food. Lamb shanks, veal knuckles or shanks, and pork hocks provide some of the best eating there is, these people will tell you, and you don't know what you are missing in ignoring them. Usually these meats are cooked by braising, just as the beef shanks are, though occasionally they may be cooked in liquid to add further variety in flavor to menus.

Beef shanks are a symbol, too, of all good braised meat dishes. Unusual flavor and tenderness seem to accompany not only shanks but all other meats cooked by this method. This may be due to the initial browning, which seems to develop flavor, and to the long slow cooking which brings out the flavor to the fullest.

As has been mentioned, the first step in preparing the beef shanks, or any other braised meat, is to brown the exterior thoroughly. This is usually done in the same utensil in which the meat is to be cooked, in order to save dishes—usually a heavy frying-pan with a close-fitting cover or a Dutch oven. Use a small amount of hot fat, about 2 or 3 tablespoons, in which to brown the meat. If you like, dip the shanks in flour first to aid in the browning process. Brown the meat thoroughly so that the color will last throughout the cooking time.

Now add a small amount of liquid to the pan, about ¼ to ½ cup. If you need more later you can always add it. If you have a rack, the shanks may be cooked on it so that they will be sure to cook evenly. If not, perhaps you will want to turn them occasionally during the cooking time. Now cover the pan closely and, keeping the fire low, cook the shanks until they are tender, about 3 or 4 hours.

Flavor Rightness

There's no need to describe the flavor of the pot-roasts in glowing terms—you'll be able to tell for yourself as soon as they start to cook! A good choice for your liquid in this case is tomato juice or tomato pulp. The flavor of the tomato blends very well with the meat, and when the meat is tender you can thicken it as a gravy.

Small whole potatoes tucked in with the shanks about 45 minutes before the end of the cooking time come out a rich golden brown, tender to the "nth" degree, and tasting of the good meat flavor. Other vegetables, too, such as onions, green pepper, carrots or celery may be your choice.

Hal Boyle Says

By Hal Boyle

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Jan. 29—(AP)—Ole Massa with the mint julep in his hand don't live here any more.

Yes, suh, there was an old south—there really was. But now, yes suh, there's a new south—there really is.

And the new south is right here, springing up like danderlions, getting purty as a speckled pup on a red wagon. Of course, those hammerheads up nawth don't know the new south is arriving.

But, you know, it's a funny thing—a visitor gets the odd feeling the people down this way don't realize how far they've gone in the direction they're going.

Get Misty-Eyed

They have a luncheon or a banquet, yes suh, they generally or certainly do. And they generally and almost certainly also will have at least one speaker who will discuss "The New South." Well, it's a funny thing about that speech. It is pretty likely to bring up the roses and raptures of the old south. And everybody gets chunky - in - the - throat and misty-eyed over the glamorous past.

And then the speaker, in a brief and defiant finale, comes out flatly with a prediction the "New South" everybody's been waiting for is on the way, sure as justice."

As a Missouri-born stranger whose folks got here from Ireland to late to get mixed up in the America's famous family quarrel, I claim I am as unprejudiced as a man can be who believes Robert E. Lee got directed to the wrong courthouse at Appomattox.

Blamed the British

My immigrant grandfather, who came from southern Ireland, stayed out of this foreign American fuss until he learned that the south had "lost." From then on he reared his 17 children in the faith that the south must have been right. But he didn't blame Abraham Lincoln or General Grant. He blamed the British. He knew they were responsible for Southern Ireland's plight, and he was sure they had a tropic allergy here, too.

All that was long ago if not faraway, of course, and that is what I think of when I hear these grandsons of one of the worst military occupations in history talk about the "New South."

I have seen two recent American overseas military occupations—in Germany and Japan—and I am sure they were softer than the occupation the pore south suffered. After all, if your mother-in-law moves in, doesn't she muscle there longer than anybody?

The Real Point

But that brings me back to the real point— which is, what happens after mammy-in-law, moves out? Well, it is hard to realize. And I think it is hard for the South to realize that it is freer than it knows—and maybe going farther than it understands.

Henry Grady, the beloved southern editor, once wrote: "The south will come into its own when the fields are green in winter."

By that he meant the south would have gotten away from the multiple slavery of one-crop cotton. Well, today the fields of Alabama, a key state of the old south, are green. The cattle fatten where they never grazed before.

There aren't so many leaning tar and tin covered wood shanties wearying a hillside. Brick buildings are going up, factories are opening. People, black and white, are coming home with more take-home money. School buildings for the poor white, the poor black, are rising in every area. They are wiping out the long dark shadow on the slow soft land.

Progress Arriving

A man says, "Some day my boy is going to grow up and take over from me," but he never really knows just when it happens.

And that—I think—is the way it is about the old south and the new south. The new south is here, happening every day to the people still scanning the horizon for it to come.

The news should go north, too. It is important news to all America. Progress is here arriving.

Reverently Burying War Dead in Extinct Volcano

By Don H. Carlson

HONOLULU, Jan. 29—(AP)—In the peaceful crater of an extinct volcano overlooking the broad Pacific, the army is reverently burying hundreds of American war dead.

Soldiers, sailors and marines who died on battlefields across the Pacific are being brought here to rest eternally in the new national cemetery of the Pacific.

An unknown serviceman who died in the Pearl Harbor attack on Dec. 7, 1941, was the first to be interred in the new cemetery. He was buried Jan. 4.

About 200 of his World War II buddies are being buried daily through January and February.

The body of Ernie Pyle, beloved war correspondent of the GI's who was killed by Japanese machine gun fire in tiny Ie Shima near Okinawa, will be brought here for burial.

A Simple Stone

His grave, like all the rest, will be marked by only a simple granite stone set flush with the ground.

In the Cemetery of the Pacific there will be no segregation of graves, Lt. Gen. John E. Hull, Pacific Army commander, said. Privates and colonels, apprentice seamen and commanders will be laid side by side.

By the end of February, it has been estimated, 8,000 servicemen will have been buried. These dead, representing almost hal fthe number to be buried in the red soil of the 35-acre crater, are being given traditional military burials.

They died on such scattered battlefields as China, Burma, Guadalcanal, Saipan, Guam, Okinawa and Iwo Jima.

To Return Many Bodies

Next of kin in most cases have requested overseas burials, General Hull said. During the summer many of Hawaii's sons will be returned for interment.

Unique among the nation's 90-odd national cemeteries, the National Cemetery of the Pacific is in the crater of a volcano which has been inactive for hundreds of years. The volcano, Punchbowl, is one of the last evidences of volcanic activity on Oahu Island. It is a sister volcano to Hawaii's famous Diamond Head.

In Hawaiian legends Punchbowl is described as a "Mountain of Sacrifice." Natives were immolated in the old crater for breaking taboos of ancient gods and high chiefs.

Records reveal that Punchbowl was first suggested as a cemetery site 50 years ago when Hawaii was still a republic. Sanford B. Dole, president of the republic and later the first territorial governor, vetoed the proposal.

Drive Started Years Ago

Following the first World War, veterans organizations began a campaign to have a national cemetery located in the crater. The drive died out, but was resumed at the outbreak of World War II.

During the early years of the war, the idea of a cemetery in the crater was strenuously opposed by many groups in Honolulu. They argued that Punchbowl was too small, that a better sight could be found nearer Pearl Harbor and that the city's water supply would be in danger of contamination.

In Final Building Phase

After lengthy debates and thorough investigations, these arguments were all brushed aside. Then the proposal was taken to Washington.

A bill for creation of the cemetery passed through Congress early in 1948 and was signed by the president on June 26. More than $1,170,000 was earmarked for the project. Construction was started in August.

The cemetery is now in the final building phase, the Army Engineers estimate it will be ready for dedication about May 30, Decoration Day.

Blizzard Taught People A Number of Things

stumbled around ("I don't know how long") bumping into telephone poles and fire hydrants. But all the houses seemed to have disappeared.

"I got so scared I started lighting matches to try and keep warm," he recalls. "They kept going out. Finally there were no more matches."

He fell to his hands and knees in the snow and began yelling. Someone happened to hear him.

The blizzards taught the people other things beside the fact that eating is a privilege.

Fifty Hours In Stalled Car

Jim Brisbie, 20, Walter Magnuson, 26, and Lois Gordy, 20, all of Miles City, Mont., spent 50 hours in a stalled car. Lois said they learned during their experience that (1) "The best way to keep warm is to wriggle like a worm." (2) "Just plain living and breathing is a miracle."

The blizzards taught the people that the nation's railway system is not an invincible thing.

Scores of slick super-trains were stalled throughout the west. In some instances the passengers had to use table pads from the dining car as blankets. At Green River, Wyo., where 1,200 passengers were stranded, a young man from Walla Walla, Wash., (himself a stranded passenger) edited and published a newsheet known as the Stalled-Train Ledger. Alfred McVay used train porters and stewardesses as "leg men". They sifted the gossip from the various coaches and pullman cars for the editor. He used a duplicator machine at the train station to get out the paper. Circulation reached 800 before the trains were able to leave.

Took Over Hotel Kitchen

At Kimball, Neb., dining-car chefs took over the kitchen of a small hotel and did their cooking there. Their 270 passengers moved into the hotel. It became so crowded that its patrons had to sleep in shifts.

Among those aboard halted trains were a group of Northwestern university students, headed back for Chicago after the Rose Bowl game. They borrowed the largest theater in Cheyenne, Wyo., put on a skit, a parody on the moving picture, "Rope." The audience enjoyed it. There was no admission price. And there was hardly any other place to go for recreation.

And the blizzard taught the people some grimmer things than those mentioned. It taught them, for instance, just how much a father can love his child.

Family Frozen To Death

A young Colorado ranch couple and their two children were found frozen to death. They died trying to reach their home after the family car stalled. When the bodies were found, most of the father's outer clothing was wrapped around the body of his nine-year-old daughter.

The January blizzards of 1949 were tough.

No one denies it.

But the blizzards taught the people a number of things.

Five U. S. Soldiers Burn to Death

TOKYO, Sunday, Jan. 30—(AP)—Five American soldiers burned to death and 10 others were believed missing in a fire which swept the two-story barracks at the Yokota air force base early today.

At least 15 others were injured, five of them seriously.

Smoke and heat awakened Staff Sgt. Carl R. Nilson of Tacoma, Wash., he sounded the alarm, but flames already were licking through the barracks, which housed 90 men.

Headquarters said five bodies, none immediately identified, had been recovered. Search was underway for 10 more believed missing.

The base is about 20 miles west of Tokyo.

Small Fire In Basement

The fire companies were called to an apartment house, 820 West Third street, owned by Mrs. Carl Pehl, Saturday morning at 9:47 o'clock.

Damages amounted to about $10 to a basement door. The cause of the blaze was undetermined. Pump buckets were used to extinguish the fire.

This made the twenty-third fire of the year.

Senate Democratic Leader Lucas (Ill) summoned all Senate committee chairmen into a weekend huddle to lay out a schedule of action.

Find Husband Dead, Wife Ill

LAMAR, Mo., Jan. 29—(AP)—Sheriff Jim Bassett said the lifeless body of Lowell Ramey, 30, Lamar farm machinery dealer was found today in bed at his apartment located above his business, one block north of the city square.

Bassett said the dead man's wife was lying unconscious at his side. Mrs. Ramey, about 30, was reported improved by authorities at Mt. Carmel hospital in Pittsburg, Kas., late today.

The sheriff said Ramey last was seen alive at 10 p. m. Wednesday when Dr. Edmond Guldner visited the couple in answer to their call. Dr. Guldner said the Rameys complained of severe stomach pains and told him they had eaten meat balls for supper. The doctor added that he gave them some medicine and advised them to call him, if their condition did not improve.

Sheriff Bassett, highway patrolmen and Dr. Claude Duckett, coroner, searched the refrigerator and the garbage can and found no trace of meat balls. The sheriff said a survey of the city's restaurant showed that the couple had not been served Wednesday night.

Ramey's body was taken to the E. K. Smith funeral home at Pittsburg late today. After an autopsy performed by Dr. W. G. Rinehart and Dr. C. W. Erickson, the latter said the cause of death was carbon monoxide poisoning.

Carry 42 Tons Of Bombs Aloft

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29—(AP)—A United States B-36 bomber carried 42 tons of bombs aloft today—greatest bomb load ever lifted—and dropped them on a California bombing range, the air force announced.

The bomb load consisted of two guided missiles.

The two huge bombs, without explosive charges, were dropped separately.

The B-36 took off from Carswell base, Texas, flew to a bombing range at the Muroc, Calif., air test base, and returned to the Texas Field, ordinarily a round trip of 2,400 miles. However, additional time over the target and other deviations in the route brought the total distance to 2,900 miles.

The previous bomb lift mark was set last summer by a B-29 which carried one missile weighing 42,000 pounds. Since then the Superfortresses have carried similar 21-ton payloads on many test missions.

Today's flight marked the first attempt by a B-36 to carry the full 42-ton load.

The Air Force announcement tonight followed by 24 hours the statement of Air Secretary Symington before the congressional committee that critics were trying to do a "hatchet job" on the B-36.

The spectacular feat today was described in the announcement as "a normal test flight required under terms of the Air Force contract with Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corp."

Eight German Women to U.S.

By Thomas A. Reedy

BERLIN, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Could German women keep their country on a peaceful Democratic path, without slambang wars every 25 years?

The Americans propose to find out.

An experiment is being undertaken by the U. S. military government at some expense. Eight German women with reliable background are being sent to the United States to see how American women look at government and politics.

It is hoped they will view the activities of Amercian women in every detail over a three-month period, starting in February. Then, it is further hoped, they will return and spread the gospel that American women keep a wary eye on their nation's affairs, ready to let out a screech if they start going wrong.

A loud screech from the women might have stopped even Adolf Hitler. That is the belief of Edward H. Litchfield, chief of military government's civil administration, and a native of Lansing, Mich.

Special Chair For Lawmaker

ATLANTA, Jan. 29—(AP)—A Georgia legislator will cost taxpayers $1.25 per pound.

And for Rep. C. O. (Fat) Baker, that's a sizeable sum—$400 to be exact.

Baker, who weighs "something over 300 pounds," hasn't been able to rise for any speechmaking in the Georgia House because a normal swivel chair sticks to his over-size seat like a leech.

The state figures a lawmaker has an inalienable right to comfort. So it has ordered a special chair, 32½ inches wide, from a Buffalo N. Y. manufacturer. It would seat two normal men side by side, but is just right for Baker."

Social Events

The G. T. G. club met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. O. Maness, 670 East Seventeenth street, for a 1:00 o'clock luncheon. Mrs. Cord Bohling, president, presided over the business meeting. The remainder of the afternoon was spent doing needle work. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Golda Herrick, 1505 South Kentucky avenue.

Mrs. Marvin Crutcher, Jr., 601 West Sixth street, was hostess at a surprise shower Friday evening at her home for Miss Margaret Karigan. Miss Karigan is to be married Wednesday morning to Mr. John Quinton Fisher.

The occasion was a crystal shower and the rooms were decorated in the Valentine motif. On the wall there hung a frilly Valentine umbrella. The honoree's gifts were placed on a chest beneath it. At each plate, where red punch, red cake and coffee were served, were place cards dotted with red heart cut-outs.

Games were played during the evening. Awards went to Miss Jerry Tuefel, Mrs. Bob Fingland, Mrs. Bess Miller and Miss Margaret Karigan.

Guests were: Miss Margaret Karigan, Miss Trudy Kraus, Miss Juanita Lyle and Miss Gene Sullivan and Mrs. Irwin Lehmer, Mrs. Bob Fingland, Mrs. Bess Miller, Mrs. W. E. Hurlbut, Jr., Mrs. John Stacy, Mrs. John Vandekamp, Mrs. Warren Deitz and Mrs. Paul Burke.

No Comment On Conference

CHICAGO, Jan. 29—(AP)—A conference between representatives of the nation's railroads and 16 non-operating unions adjourned today and planned to resume its wage-hour talks Tuesday morning.

Neither side would comment on what gains if any, toward settlement were made today, except for one railroad spokesmen who said "the conferees are making progress."

The earlier types of moving starcase in London's Tube railways traveled at a rate of 90 feet a minute; newest models can do 180, though they are run only from 120 to 160 feet a minute as yet.

Fled From Jail Barefooted

TRENTON, Mo., Jan. 29—(AP)—Benjamin Stewart, 24, who fled barefooted from the Trenton county jail early today in sub-zero weather, was captured at 5:30 p. m. after a chase of more than a mile in deep snow.

The man's feet were frozen, said Dr. E. A. Duffy, who treated Stewart after his capture.

Stewart had run several blocks in the snow before putting on his shoes this morning while the mercury stood at 5 below zero. Then he walked 12 miles to his father's farm east of Spickard, wearing only a light shirt and suit coat.

Twenty minutes after Stewart got home and had taken off his low-cut shoes, Sheriff R. Henry Smith and several deputies arrived.

Stewart fled into the timber, wearing just one shoe.

The sheriff tracked him more than a mile into a neighbor's barn, and found Stewart hiding in a hogpen, buried under some litter.

The doctor said he would recover with proper care of his feet.

Convicts Ask For Sunshine

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 29—(AP)—Four Missouri convicts asked Cole County Circuit Judge Sam C. Blair today to see that they get fresh air and sunshine.

In their petition to be removed from the prison's "E hall"—a building set aside for maximum security—the quartet said they were tubercular. They need air, sunshine, exercise and a proper diet to combat the disease, they testified.

It was the first time, court officers said, that convicts had sought a court's aid in getting moved around inside the prison walls.

To be confined to the cells of E. hall, they told the judge, is "cruel and unusual punishment." Inmates of E hall have the same rights as any other convict except they can't exercise in the prison yard and they don't have to work, Corrections Director Thomas E. Whitecotton said.

The four—Jack Stroemple, Vernon Mitchell, Frank Earnest and Ralph King — complained they hadn't been getting the diet prescribed by the prison physician, the air would be fresh enough with a window open but they couldn't regulate it and they couldn't get any exercise or sunshine in the narrow confines of their cells.

Recover More Than 70 Bodies

HAMBURG, Germany, Jan. 29—(AP)—The bodies of more than 70 men, women and children have been recovered from the hulk of a sunken German U-boat in Kiel Bay.

The submarine apparently was carrying refugees fleeing before the advancing Russian armies in 1945 when it was trapped on the surface and sunk by Allied aircraft in the bay, known as "the graveyard of the Germany navy."

Most of the people were from Danzig. Bodies of 54 have been identified. Records are being checked to identify the others.

The 1,600-ton submarine, an under-sea coffin to these victims, is just one of more than 40 sung off the German Baltic coast. This is the first grim evidence uncovered by salvage crews, however, that they were used to evacuate civilians.

This was announced tonight by the justice department, which said the attorneys were directed to present any possible law violations to a grand jury.

A property owners group in Tulsa, Okla., has ordered a number of evictions of tenants within 60 days and has called on landlords in other cities to follow suit.

The Tulsa group took their action in an announced protest against proposed new federal rent control bills now before congress.

McGrath Working Tactfully to Reunite Demacrats

By Jack Bell

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29—(AP)—That man you see treading lightly over political eggs is Chairman J. Howard McGrath of the Democratic National committee.

McGrath, 45-year-old supervising architect of President Truman's November election victory, has an even tougher job now.

It's his task to keep his many-faceted party operating as something of a unit so that when the 1950 congressional elections roll around the Democrats will have a legislative record they can talk about.

With this in mind, McGrath has set out to heal the gaping political wounds brought about by the southern revolt against Mr. Truman's civil rights program.

It will have to be a quick healing process. The president's determination to push his anti-poll tax, anti-lynching and fair employment practices commission proposals is certain to pitch another battle with the southerners before this session of Congress ends.

McGrath's Hand In

Canny Republicans have been trying to get the fighting started early. They maneuvered to push a filibuster-killing rule change before the senate. But the Democratic-controlled rules committee blocked this. There is evidence that McGrath had a hand in that action.

McGrath also apparently has been busy trying to woo some followers of Henry A. Wallace back into the fold. He has made it plain that Wallace himself won't find any further welcome in the party unless he repents—which he isn't expected to do.

But Wallace's running mate, Senator Glen Taylor of Idaho, is back in Democratic good graces—at least outwardly. Taylor got the same seniority and committee treatment as his Democratic colleagues.

Some Democrats outside of Congress went a long way before the party nominating convention trying to get Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as a replacement for Mr. Truman. They too have been told that all will be forgotten.

Favors Depend On Prior Action

In their case the test for future party favors is whether they actively supported the president after he was nominated.

Even that test seemingly isn't being applied to some of the southerners. Except for isolated instances, McGrath has shown no inclination to crack down on the patronage for some of those who strayed into the states rights ranks.

There is no love lost between the national chairman and Gov. J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, who headed the states rights ticket. But even Thurmond, as a governor, got an invitation to the president's inaugural.

Senator Ellender (D-La), who had been marked by some Truman supporters for punishment, hasn't felt any yet. In fact Ellender recently was consulted in the filling of a long list of 1950 census-taking jobs in his state.

Abided By Party Rules

Ellender claims that state party rules required him to support the Thurmond-Wright ticket if he was to be a nominee for reelection to the Senate.

The Louisiana senator's chief sin — from the administration viewpoint—was his failure to plug and to attend a New Orleans rally at which Vice-President Barkley spoke during the campaign.

Senator Eastland (D-Miss), who openly backed the Thurmond-Wright ticket, may not be consulted about patronage matters. But there have been no signs the administration is going out of its way to slap him down.

Incurred White House Displeasure

Senator McClellan of Arkansas incurred White House displeasure last spring when he said the Democrats couldn't win with President Truman as their nominee. Yet he came out with three choice committee spots in the Senate reorganization.

He got the chairmanship of the expenditures committee, which can poke around in government departments. He won a spot on the influential appropriations committee, and he kept his place on the public works committee.

In the House balking southerners generally escaped punishment. However, Rep. Rankin (D-Miss) lost his place on the committee investigating un-American activities Under a new ruling he could not have that and become chairman of the House Veterans committee.

Despite this, the general impression in Washington is that McGrath is engineering a Democratic get-together campaign that may pay off in support for President Truman's legislative proposals—unless the civil rights fight flares up unexpectedly early.

Moratorium on Wages Asked

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 29—(AP)—A union officer's announcement Friday made his employers listen twice:

"Gentleman, we want no more money. We would like to continue the present agreement for three years," said James J. Stokes, secretary-treasurer of the union composed of about 150 truck drivers.

The declaration of a three-year moratorium on wage boosts came from a section of local 187, AFL-teamsters union, which has a 12-year-record of calling strikes to win its demands.

Since 1937, excluding the war years, the union has struck annually for periods ranging up to a month.

The union members, who collect and deliver overalls, uniforms and other working clothes handled by six member firms of the Philadelphia Industrial Laundry Association, now get:

A weekly base pay of $7.50 with commissions ranging from 10 to 18 per cent.

Under this contract drivers earn an average of about $75 a week, Stokes said.

Weather conditions are recorded by movements of birds, animals, and insects, as faithfully as by the modern scientific instruments.

Verdict in Suit For $100,000

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 29 — (AP) — A circuit court jury returned a $100,000 verdict Friday in favor of Thomas L. O'Brien, a former switchman, in his damage suit against the Louisville and Nashville railroad company.

O'Brien who lives in West Nashville, Tenn., claimed he was permanently disabled in a switching accident caused by negligence on the part of the railroad. He testified that he stumbled over a chain and was thrown against a train in the Nashville railroad yard on Oct. 22, 1947, suffering spinal and other injuries.

O'Brien, 34, said he operates a dairy farm with his father-in-law and that he has been able to do virtually no work since the accident.

The railroad contended the chain was left in the yards by a contractor moving mill machinery and that the railroad was not responsible.

IF STOMACH BALKS DUE TO GAS AND BLOAT
Help Get Food Digested to Relieve Yourself of This Nervous Distress
Do you feel all puffed-up and miserable after every meal, taste sour, bitter food? If so, here is how you may get blessed relief in helping your stomach do the job—it should be doing—in the digestion of its food.
Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.
To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Gratitude Train Will be Split Into Three Sections

NEW YORK, Jan. 29—(AP)—The French gratitude train will be split into three sections for movement to 48 states and the district of Columbia when it arrives next Wednesday on the freighter Magellan,

The national friendship food train committee said the train would follow approximately the route taken by the American friendship train last year.

The 49 cars of the gratitude train were organized last year mainly by veterans' groups of the nationalized French railroad system to express the nation's thanks for America's friendship train.

Many of the cars are of the "40 men and eight horses" type familiar to American veterans.

Altogether there are aboue 1,000,000 gifts for the 48 states and the District of Columbia.

Gifts include such items as 49 facsimilies and translations of a page of the "cosmographie introductio" by Martin Waldseemuller, a canon of Saint-Die in the XVI century.

The book, written in Latin and printed in 1507, was the first volume to mention America by name.

The association of French war blind offered brushes made by the hands of those who lost their sight during both world wars.

From private collections came the first flag given to the soldiers of Verdun in World War II, with the motto: "They Shall Not Pass."

Tricolor Cords

Also among the gifts are 49 tricolor cords which were spun out of the American and French flags flying on top of the Eiffel Tower in August, 1944, when the French capital was diberated.

One section of 15 cars, destined for south and southeastern state capitals, is expected to leave Jersey City, N. J., with stops in Trenton, Philadelphia, Wilmington, Baltimore and Washington, Feb. 5. Later stops will be made in other cities.

A six-car section for New England and another with 27 cars for western states will leave Feb. 7.

Stops listed by the New York Central railroad included:

Feb. 10—leaves Buffalo, N. Y., at 5 a. m., arriving Erie, Pa., 8 a. m.; Ashtabula, O., 10:30 a. m.; Collingwood, O., 1:15, where three cars for Frankfurt, Ky., Columbus, O., and Nashivlle, Tenn., will be diverted; 3 p. m., Cleveland, O.; 9:45 p. m., Toledo, where car to Lansing, Mich., will be diverted.

Feb. 11—Elkhart, Ind., 2 p. m.; South Bend, Ind., 4:15 p. m.; Chicago, 8 p. m. at Chicago the remaining cars will be turned over to four other lines.

Red peppers, used in making salads and pickles, are said to have been used by the American Indians more than 1000 years ago.

Beware of Romance

By Roberta Courtland

Copyright by Gramercy Pub. Co.—Distributed by NEA SERVICE, INC.

XXXIV

MERRY had been a little uneasy about Susan's reaction to her return to Marshallville. But Susan seemed reconciled, even content. Her letters were cheerful and recounted her routine activities; she and Carter seemed to be living a full and busy life, at least by their own standards.

"I don't get it," Merry admitted frankly one afternoon when she had read Susan's latest letter aloud to Aunt Jane. "She fretted herself sick while I was in New York, and I thought that she was lonely for me. But I'm away from her now and she doesn't seem to care a bit."

Aunt Jane grinned.

"You don't get it? Child, it's as plain as a pike-staff," said Aunt Jane dryly. "When you were in New York, you were with Kin and Lissa. And Susan was just plain, old-fashioned jealous."

Merry nodded ruefully.

"You know, Aunt Jane, it's funny, but I honestly believe Mother is happier with Carter than she ever was with Dad!" she said impulsively.

Aunt Jane's thick eyebrows went up a little.

"You don't mean you've finally come to that conclusion? I knew it from the first," she declared. "I think having a second romance in her life has restored Susan's youth. She married Kin when they were both a couple of kids, before she knew what romance really was. Then when the break-up came, she felt old and worn out and fearfully abused. And then Carter came along and wooed her as though she'd been a young girl, and she got a terrific kick out of it."

Startled, Merry stared at her.

"And Kin and Lissa seem ideally suited to each other," she said slowly, unwillingly.

Aunt Jane nodded.

"Kin and Susan had grown away from each other. They no longer had anything in common. Naturally, they rubbed each other the wrong way. I'd say the best thing that ever happened to either of them was that break-up you've been deploring for so long."

• • •

IT was a new thought and Merry wasn't any too sure that she liked it. After a long, thoughtful moment she spoke again, and Aunt Jane was wise enough and shrewd enough to realize that she was not changing the subject.

"Aunt Jane, I met a man in New York." Merry found her words slowly, with difficulty. "He's terribly attractive and I liked him a lot. He said he was in love with me and he wanted to marry me, but he said, "If it doesn't work out, there's always Reno.'"

Aunt Jane nodded thoughtfully.

"Honest, at any rate," she contributed, and waited.

Puzzled, Merry asked, "You don't think it's wrong to get married with that thought in the back of your head, Aunt Jane?"

"Merry, darling, I long ago gave up deciding what was 'wrong' and what was 'right' for other people," said Aunt Jane quietly. "People have to decide such things for themselves. If two people are head over heels in love, I suppose it's perfectly natural for them to be quite convinced that it's going to last a lifetime."

"Mike didn't."

"Then Mike wasn't very deeply in love, or else Mike has seen enough of the seamy side of matrimony to be a little suspicious."

Merry flushed. "His mother has been married five—or maybe six times."

Aunt Jane drew a deep breath and blinked.

"Then it's a wonder to me this Mike didn't scream with rage and take to the tall timber at the very word 'marriage.' It's a thousand wonders he'd even let the word pass his lips. Good grief, no wonder the man said, 'Marry me, and if it doesn't work out, there's always Reno.'"

Merry was still for a moment, and then she looked straight at Aunt Jane, her eyes grave, probing.

"Then you wouldn't consider him a very good risk for marriage, would you, Aunt Jane?"

• • •

AUNT JANE hesitated for a moment, and never in her life had she prayed for the right answer as she prayed for it now. And when she spoke at last her voice was warm, tender with affection.

"Darling, you're not quite 18," she said very gently. "I think that it will be at least a couple of years before I'd consider any man a good risk for marriage for you. You're just a little girl, Merry, suffering from growing pains. Take time out to get over that before you plunge into getting married, won't you?"

A swift, relieved smile crossed Merry's face and she jumped up and hugged Aunt Jane.

"Of course, angel. You're right. Here I sit moiling and gibbering about getting married, when I've all the time in the world. Isn't that silly of me? You'd think, wouldn't you, the way I'm carrying on, if I wasn't married by next Friday afternoon at half-past two, the world would come to an end for me? Let's skip it, angel, and go transplant those snapdragons that are fighting for more space to grow in."

"Let's, by all means," agreed Aunt Jane heartily, relieved that Merry was willing to dismiss a subject that was beginning to trouble Aunt Jane almost as much as it had previously been puzzling Merry.

Institute Suits Over 'GI Homes'

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 29 — (AP) — Twenty-six World War II veterans Friday sued the promoters of Riverview Heights (GI homes) subdivision for a total of $260,000 damages, alleging they were sold "cheap, weak, inferior" houses for which they paid $8,500 apiece.

The suit, filed in circuit court, charges that the houses are caving in, falling apart, the roofs and walls leaking, the woodwork warping, the plaster falling off and the paint granulating and washing away."

The housing project was promoted as "for GIs, by GIs, and built by GIs." (t was opened in 1946 in the 8700 block on North Broadway.

David S. Stiffelman, one of the promoters, said the houses were built according to specifications and had been inspected by representatives of the Veterans' Administration.

The Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

by Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30—Forthright Secretary of Agriculture Charlie Brannan warned a closed door senate session this week that the government may have to buy up 800,000,000 bushels of grain this coming year.

Reporting to a private session of the senate agriculture committee, Brannan explained that farmers are overplanting grain and cotton. That prices may go into a tailspin. In this case the government will have to take the crops off the farmers' hands. The money to do this, Brannan cautioned, is limited.

"Next year," he declared, "it is entirely possible we will have all of our working funds committed."

Though the secretary of agriculture could use more funds to protect support prices, it isn't likely that Congress will add to the $4,750,000,000 now available. This means the government will probably be forced to lower support prices.

Senator Milton Young, North Dakota Republican, asked whether Brannan favored support prices kept as high as 100 per cent of parity, such as demanded by the Farmers' Union.

"It is desirable," replied the secretary of agriculture, "but looking at the other aspects of the price-support program, I do not believe it is at all possible."

He pointed out that the agriculture department not only could not stretch its money that far, but that 100 per cent of parity would encourage even more over planting. Result would be an oversupply of commodities supported by the government and a scarcity of commodities not under the price-support program.

In the end, it would be the housewives who would pay the bill, cautioned the secretary of agriculture. Abundant commodities would cost more because of the high prices paid by the government to farmers, while scarce goods would also cost more because there wouldn't be enough to go around.

"The American people," Brannan shook his head, "will not stand for extreme costs."

Senator Thomas' Elevators

Senators were amazed and amused when Chairman Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma, the speculating senator, put forward an idea for curbing speculation. The man who was once up to his neck in the commodity market urged laying aside tremendous stocks of cotton and grain in order to discourage speculation. By taking large bulks out of circulation, Thomas argued, the speculators would have less to work with.

One senator bit his tongue to keep from smiling. For it was the very same Thomas who delivered speeches on the senate floor blasting the OPA for trying to restrict speculation, together with other speeches bound to influence the commodity market following which his friends cashed in. When colleagues started investigating Thomas, he scared off super-snooper Senator Homer Ferguson of Michigan with a letter threatening to expose some of Ferguson's activities.

Note — Maybe the reason Thomas has changed his tune, now favors governmen. purchase of warehouses and grain elevators, is that his speculating friend, Dyke Cullum, has been urging this.

Brannan Says No

Secretary Brannan didn't think much of Senator Thomas' suggestion. He wants Congress to remove the GOP-imposed restriction limiting the storage space which the government can lease, but he did not want the government to go into the business of buying or constructing elevators and warehouses. The agriculture department would rather help farm co-ops build storage, he said.

The secretary of agriculture also dropped this significant hint to the closed-door senatorial meeting:

This year's crop will not be used as a basis for figuring future acreage allotments under crop controls.

Many farmers are planting heavily in order to increase their acreage allotments, Brannan explained, just in case crop controls are ordered. But expended production won't do them any good, because this year's crop won't be taken as the yardstick.

Citrus Fruit

Florida's Senator Spessard Holland raised the question of price supports for tree crops — such as Florida's citrus fruits, tung oil and pecans. He cited a letter from Ralph Trigg, head of production and marketing, reporting that the agriculture department contemplated no supports for tree crops.

Brannan replied that these commodities are indirectly supported by heavy government purchases for school lunches and the European recovery program.

Bachelor Sam Rayburn

Friends are kidding bachelor speaker Sam Rayburn about how he is going to spend his new $10,000 salary increase, with $10,000 extra for expenses.

"Whenever I go to dinner with you, Sam," chided delightful Mrs. A. Mitchell Palmer, "you always have the food sent from Pierre's restaurant across the street to your apartment. And by the time it gets across the street and the snow is wiped off, it's stone cold. With this new expense account, I'm expecting you to take me out to dinner."

Sam, however, is not expected to change much. He wouldn't be Sam Rayburn if he did.

Lodge Bill For Workers

A little noticed bill affecting several million workers and several thousand factories has just been introduced by Senator Cabot Lodge, Massachusetts Republican. It would require firms that do business with the governments to hire their employes by the year.

The company that has the security of a government contract, argues Lodge, should pass that security on to its employes.

"The employee who receives this assurance then knows where he stands," explains the senator from Massachusetts. "He can make commitments for the education of his children, for necessary dental or medical work and make payments on his house and for the other things which raise his standard of living.

"Unless he receives a guarantee that his wages would be paid for a year, he cannot make these commitments. Although he might by the end of the year have earned as much money, the fact that he had no assurance of it would have required him to live virtually a hand to mouth existence."

LISTEN! by Jim Carson

There are those who claim that Adolph Hitler is still alive! So, the Family Hour of Stars will present an exciting drama on this subject as the theme for "The Man On The Third Floor" in this afternoon's program on KMBC at 5 p. m. Gregory Peck will star in this Les Crutchfield story of suspense and excitement.

Amiable Chuck Acree, M.C. of Hint Hunt, heard on KMBC each afternoon at 3 o'clock, Monday through Friday, offers timely household suggestions for home chores. And, of course, it's a hilarious time as the audience participates in this afternoon feature. We're confident that it will bring you a mid-afternoon lift, so we hope you'll listen.

And, while we're on the subject of daytime programs, we'd like to call your special attention to the thrilling adventures of Perry Mason, master sleuth. Perry Mason is heard on KMBC at 4:45 each afternoon, Monday through Friday, and the program always has a thrill or two in store for the listener.

Forty-five minutes of tunes, fun, gags and pleasant early morning listening is the fare brought to KMBC listeners at 7:30 each morning, Monday through Saturday, on Rhymaline Time. David Andrews is the master of ceremonies, and he's ably assisted by Harry Jenks, pianist-organist, along with the Tune Chasers. Charlie, Vaughn, Ruel and Herbie always have some mighty nice tunes available, and from the line of chatter and general fun, we have a suspicion that the Tune Chasers have as much fun as anyone on this swell program. It's a show with a cheery note, and we'd like to suggest that you tune in for some early morning fun.

That delightful comedy of errors, Mr. Ace and Jane, with Goodman and Jane Ace, returns to the air Tuesday evening at 10:30 p. m. on KMBC, after a month's vacation. We'll bet you're glad they are returning, and we hope you'll tune their way this Tuesday.

Leopold Stokowski conducts the New York Philharmonic-Symphony orchestra this afternoon at 2 o'clock on KMBC. The Vaughan Williams Sixth Symphony will be featured, with Leonard Rose, cellist, as the soloist..

Deems Taylor welcomes three teen-agers on the Intermission section of this Sunday afternoon feature.

Luigi Basco writes a letter to his mother in the "Life with Luigi" feature, heard on KMBC next Friday evening at 10:30. J. Carrol Nash plays the title role in this heartwarming comedy series.

With this partial listing of KMBC highlights, it's no wonder KMBC is first in radio in the Heart of America.

Looking Backward

• Forty Years Ago

Thursday evening, January 28, at 5:15 o'clock an unusually heavy downpour of rain was followed by a cyclone that struck La Monte, damaging extensively several brick buildings in the business part of that town. The opera house building, a two-story structure, owned by R. E. Guthrie, suffered the heaviest loss. The roof and upper story of the building was swept into the street and parts of the twisted mass was carried over a block away. The Missouri Pacific station, in the path of the storm, was considerably damaged, as were business houses of O. P. Harris, A. W. Chatham, Miss Emma Reavis and others. A few citizens were injured. Sedalia and vicinity had blizzardly winds.

John L. Sullivan, county collector of Pettis county, was elected a vice president of the Missouri State Association of County Collectors at the annual meeting of that body in Jefferson City.

A shutdown of a few hours Saturday resulted at the plant of the City Water Company, due to a break on the engine there.

H. H. Taylor, farmer and stockman, residing five miles west of Sedalia, with three members of his family were milking cows at their home Thursday when a terrific wind carried away half of the roof of the barn in which the cows had been placed.

Among the prize winners were:

Open pollinated yelllow corn: Rollie Thomas and son, Roy Zeb Thomas, Hughesville; George R. Wilkerson, Hughesville.

Hybrid seed corn, Rollie Thomas, Hughesville.

A nominal charge will be made for each picture taken, and in the event the person should have some attention the picture will be sent to his or her doctor, as designated by him at the time it is taken.

Some Prize-Winning Roses

Some of the rose displays which won awards at the Missouri State Fair, entered by members of the Sedalia Rose Society, and which were written of in the American Rose magazine, as published below.

The following article written by Mrs. C. L. Carter, 700 South Beacon avenue, appeared in the American Rose Magazine in the January-February issue, published in Harrisburg, Pa.

"Blue Ribbons to Sedalia"

"The rose gardens which were planned at the organization meeting of the Sedalia (Missouri) Rose Society, January 22, during the below-zero weather, won many ribbons for the society at the Missouri State Fair.

"One of the first activities of the organization was to plant four Paul's Scarlet Climbers and four Mary Wallace on trellis gateways opening into Liberty Park. The potted rose bushes were planted last May by a committee. Wire netting was placed around the plants and they were fertilized, cultivated and sprayed this summer. We are looking forward to many blooms this May. Cash from awards won will be used to further civic rose plantings.

Sixteen Entries, 14 Awards

"The Sedalia Rose Society exhibited in the Amateur and Garden Club Section of the Floriculture Department at the 46th Missouri State Fair in August, 1948. Sixteen entries were made and 14 ribbons were awarded to the society, seven of which were blue, five were seconds, one a third award and one a fourth.

"A greatly admired entry was a dinner-table arrangement. It was a crescent design of the floribunda, Smiles, in a large crystal bowl with six twisted candles repeating the crescent design.

"The mantle decoration was an arrangement of pink roses in monochromatic color harmony in a pair of white cornucopia vases.

"One entry was a vase of flowers for the sick room; an arrangement of Dainty Bess roses in a blue pottery pitcher.

"The Sedalia Rose Society has an active membership of twenty rose growers. One meeting is held each month in the homes of members. The program chairman, G. V. Jones, has planned interesting programs for each meeting.

There are a lot of successful men right here in Sedalia who started out as carrier boys and I wish they would write me about this and help dispel the notion that carrier boys grow up in bad environment and only develop into anemic scarecrows or crooks.

With recurrent satisfaction we record the case of another successful man who started out as a newspaper carrier boy in Sedalia. I received a letter this week from an old-time friend who used to be ticket agent at the M. K. & T. depot after I graduated from paper carrier to reporter for the Sedalia Democrat. He used to save up personal items for me and once in awhile run in a fictitious name to help me "fill the column" as he says in confession after all these 33 years gone by.

Recalling the past he notes parenthetically:

"Now, in order to bring you up to date in memory, you will also recall that I carried all the various Sedalia newspapers, Capital, Sentinel and Democrat. Besides having a regular paper route, whenever a carrier became ill, I also carried that route so that in the course of years I had carried every paper route and prided myself that I almost knew the color of every house. My regular paper route took me over the Washington avenue viaduct six days a week and the surrounding buildings were very familiar, even before this viaduct was built.

"We have not had the pleasure of living in Sedalia for about 25 years, however we have continued to receive every issue of your paper."

He comments on the error in the picture of the Looney-Bloess lumber yard fire in which the freight house in the background was called the Missouri Pacific freight house.

"Now, George, if the 'Katy' sold this freight house, your paper has not to my knowledge published the fact."

He is right, the freight house still belongs to the "Katy."

But to get back to the subject of carrier boys. This particular one-time downtrodden carrier boy is now division passenger agent for the Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad, in Kansas City, and his name is Chris E. Egdorf who has unnumbered friends still living in Sedalia who will be glad to know of his success. And if I remember he was not stunted either mentally or physically by carrying papers for the Sedalia newspapers.

More power to the carrier boys and may their clan never diminish nor the opportunity denied them for the good training they receive despite the protestations of the reformers.

That a "strong bi-partisan effort" will be made by Missouri's congressional delegation to have an air academy located at the Sedalia Air Base, gives added assurance of Missouri being in the forefront for consideration when early hearings on the proposal begin.

Other states are seeking the academy. Texas and California stress better year-round weather conditions whereas much of the training will be in classrooms and laboratories. In between times and most of the time Central Missouri offers ideal flying weather. On the other hand the air force seems to give consideration to localities having "not too good" weather for training purposes. Montana and other western bad weather states provide training for the Berlin air lift pilots.

The U. S. Air Force is not going to concentrate on developing only "fair weather" flyers.

With a $10,000,000 Sedalia air field already established south of Knob Noster, certainly there is no justification for creating an entirely new air field in Texas, California or elsewhere. It would be an insane waste of government funds to spend another $10,000,000 to build an airfield when one is already available as a foundation for the air academy.

All Missourians should get behind this proposal, fight for it on a realistic basis, on a non-partisan basis of practicality, and not dissipate their efforts by lackadasical indifference or indecision.

The American Federation of Radio Artists have ruled, in effect, that a cough is a dramatic performance and should be compensated accordingly. At the current actor's rate for spot announcements, with coughs worth from $6 to $12, this might have a tendency to depopularize among the actors the cigarette that sells by the slogan: "Not a cough in a carload."

—o—

Senate investigators have discovered the government sold a surplus ship as scrap without knowing it contained more than $200,000 worth of lead ballast. That amount of money could keep the average American family going for 50 years or more. Likewise if a family could save $200 a year it would take them 100 years to accumulate enough to pay for that lead.

However, the government probably figures if it really needs to replace the $200,000 worth of lead, there's plenty to be salvaged in certain places among the personnel of government bureaus.

—o—

Stricter Missouri drivers' license laws, including yearly safety inspections of vehicles, and speed zones on highways, has been recommended by Governor Forrest Smith. The legislature should support him in this by making the necessary laws. Missouri has been laggard in this respect. Many other states for years have had firm license regulations. Many of these have been tested and found beneficial. There should be little difficulty for Missouri legislators adopting regulations that have been time-tested elsewhere.

In the words of Philander Johnson, American humorist, how true this verse today:

"Oh, what a blamed uncertain thing
This pesky weather is!
In blew and snew and then it thew
And now, by jing, it's friz!"

Shortage of men and a plentiful supply of girls has created a competitive situation in Germany. The gals over there are now advertising in newspapers and on billboards for male companionship.

Looking for advertising slogans, they might borrow this one from Artemus Ward, American humorous moralist:

"The female woman is one of the greatest institooshuns of which this land (Germany) can boste."

Van Heflin Glad He is Making a Costume Picture

By Howard C. Heyn

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 22.—(AP)—Van Heflin is making another costume picture and he's glad, for a fairly sound reason.

"I have a horrible time selecting clothes for a modern picture," he said. "I'm not clothes-conscious. Most fellows learned something about dressing in college. But my fraternity made me stay in the basement when we gave a dance."

About period clothing, however, Van is particular. For "Madame Bovary" he told the tailor to make his dinner coat hike up on one shoulder, so he could keep pulling it down. "The character I portray would have to borrow a dinner coat, and it wouldn't fit," Heflin explained. "It broke the tailor's heart, but that's the way I want it."

The designer had sketches for dozens of outfits. Van protested. His character in the film, he said, would own no more than four suits.

Hates Tight Collars

As for every-day clothing, Van has a special dislike for tight collars. He always finds an excuse to unbutton the top of his shirt. "I have 12 black ties, and they go with anything. I have also assorted gay gift ties, which I don't like, although I like to see bright ties on other people. But being Scottish I never throw away my gift ties. I wear 'em."

Stage wardrobe, he says, is much simpler. "You need only three outfits: Slacks and jackets, a dark blue suit, and a dinner suit."

"When I was in 'Philadelphia Story' I got Joe Cotten to pick out my clothes. He loves clothes and he knows them; never gets the wrong tie and shirt combination. In Hollywood I ask Peter Lawford to help me shop."

No Tie—Sneakers

Off the set Van wears clacks and sport shirts, no tie. His shoes are 12AAAA—hard to find—so he wears sneakers most of the time, much to his wife's disgust. On those rare occasions when she gets him into a tuxedo, he irritates her further by calling it "my costume."

Van even approves of slacks for women, whether or not they have the figures to wear them. "After all, not every man has the figure for pants, either," he says, "but we're stuck with 'em, aren't we?"

HOW'S THAT BY V T HAMLIN

Sedalia Wins MIBC Tournament, Beat Windsor, 47 to 38

Norman Thompson, Sedalia, High Scoring Man of the Tourney; Most Valuable Player Award Went to George Allen, of Windsor; Attendance Good at all Games

Sedalia won the Lions Club MIBC tournament, Saturday night, by defeating Windsor 47 to 38 in a fast game which Sedalia led from start to finish. Knob Noster defeated Warsaw 54 to 43 to take third place honors.

The Sedalia-Windsor game saw both teams open with setups that were executed slow enough to work consistently, but fast enough to start the game at a good clip. Both teams were hot from the beginning, but Sedalia took advantage of its earliest chances to led 16 to 11 at the quarter. Windsor began creeping up in the last few minutes of play, and during this time probably scored the most points in the least period of time during the entire game. Despite the speed, only three fouls were called during the quarter. The close man-to-man guarding makes the low number even more indicative of the clean play.

Speed Increased

The speed increased in the second quarter, with many shots but few baskets being made. Sedalia's defense began to function very well, and Windsor experienced difficulty in getting into position for a shot of any kind. Sedalia began to look even better, and pulled away to a lead that was safe for the rest of the game. Recovery of rebounds, tight defense, and smooth interceptions gave Sedalia the edge needed to finish the half leading 28 to 17. Windsor again began scoring in the last minutes of the period, when points and fouls were traded more frequently than in the first quarter.

An almost even exchange of points made the third quarter the most exciting of the game, with both teams being able to execute setups and sink accurate long shots. Play was hard and defense was very tight under the baskets. The ball went back and forth the length of the court many times, and the quarter found Sedalia leading 40 to 28, outpointing Windsor during the quarter by only one tally.

Many Wild Shots

The final quarter saw both teams in their roughtest and fastest play of the evening. Windsor was desperate for points, and many wild shots went far from the basket. Sedalia took quick advantage of these by interceptions, and the ball traveled the length of the court frequently. As the time was running out, both teams were going too fast to execute any well coordinated setups and most of the points were scored on long shots, one-man offensive rushing, or free throws. The final horn stopped the race at 47 to 38 in favor of Sedalia.

Bud Michaelis High

Bud Michaelis was high point man for Sedalia, with 15 points to his credit—many made on very fancy long shots in the closing quarters. George Allen, the tall center of Windsor, led his team with 18 points, mostly made on setup shots under the baskets.

Knob Noster Versus Warsaw

Knob Noster proved a little too tall and speedy for the Warsaw squad, and was seldom trailing in the game for third place. The pace was comparatively slow, with both sides having opportunity to try their setups if they could crack a tight defense. The first quarter saw the lead change hands several times, but Knob Noster had a 13 to 11 edge at the end of the period.

The shot that was undoubtedly the luckiest, most unexpected, and most "unconscious" of the entire tournament was turned in by Cleo Norman of Knob Noster. Having recovered a rebound from Warsaw's basket, he was standing at the far end of the court and saw a chance for a long pass to a teammate at the other end of the court. He heaved an overhand pass that hit the backboard and bounded through the hoop for two points that left the crowd of about 600 stunned for the rest of the game.

Lead Never in Danger

The later periods saw Knob Noster steadily maintain and increase a lead that was never in danger. The final gun found the fast moving, smooth working Knob Noster five leading 54 to 42, after Warsaw had put on a desperate final scoring splurge but was unable to come up with enough tallies to take third place in the tournament.

Jones was high point man for Knob Noster with 16, while Bailey led Warsaw with 17. A total of 51 fouls were called, mostly in the rough second half of the game. Warsaw was outstanding on free throws.

A brilliant Sedalia team won their second game of the MIBC tournament, Friday night at Convention hall, from Knob Noster by a 66 to 47 score. Windsor defeated Warsaw by a 55 to 36 score. These results determined the schedule for Saturday night's championship games.

The Sedalia team, now under the sponsorship of the Cramer and Schrader Construction Co. and the Pacific Cafe, made a startling comeback from a shaky start after trailing 13 to 6 at the end of the first quarter. The team put on some speed to lead 24 to 22 at the half, and the second half saw them draw away finally from a threatened Knob Noster comeback, with the final horn finding the score 66 to 47, Sedalia's favor.

Thompson High Scorer

For the second consecutive night Norman Thompson starred for Sedalia, scoring 22 points as high man. McGuire was outstanding in leading Knob Noster with 14. A total of 43 fouls were called in the fast, rough game.

The first game was similar to the Sedalia-Knob Noster game in many respects—Windsor coming back from a slow start to lead 23 to 16 at the half and carry on through the second half at an increased pace to win 55 to 36. The game was somewhat slower and not as rough.

Beauchamp was high point man for Windsor with 13, while Bailey led Warsaw with 15 as the outstanding man on the Warsaw squad in all departments. A good number of the 40 fouls were "light" ones, and a high percentage of free throws was made.

World Records Equalled at Track Meet

Indoor Track Meet Held in New York Attracts 15,000

By Austin Bealmear

NEW YORK, Jan 29—(AP)—Little Don Gehrmann of Wisconsin captured the Wanamaker mile at the Millrose indoor games tonight, coming from behind with a terrific burst of speed to pass Willy Slykhuis of Holland less than ten yards from the tape.

A sellout crowd of more than 15,000 gave the National Collegiate champion a tremendous ovation as he came pounding up on the outside to snatch the victory in his final strides in the smart time of 4:09.5 and keep the Wanamaker classic from having its first foreign winner.

John Twomey of the Illinois Athletic Club finished third, less than ten yards behind Slykhuis, while Ingvar Bengtsoon of Sweden, victorious in his previous American appearances, wound up a poor last in the field of six.

Less than a yard separated Gehrmann from Slykhuis at the finish and the clockers caught both men in identical time.

King of Indoor Milers

The feature, held on a brand new track in Madison Square Garden, established Gehrmann as the new king of the indoor milers, succeeding the retired Gil Dodds.

His time was over four seconds slower than the world indoor record established by Dodds in the 1948 Wanamaker, but the 20-year odl Wisconsin ace displayed a finish kick that will win him many a race in the future.

Gaston Reiff of Belgium, the Olympic 5,000 meter champion, made his American debu by winning the two-mile run in 8:56.1 seconds, fastest time recorded on the boards since Greg Rice, the world indoor record-holder, retired half a dozen years ago.

The Belgian stepper also exhibited a brilliant finish and was going away when he broke the tape a good six yards in front of the Swedish Olympian Erik Ahlden.

60-Yard Dash in 6.1 Seconds

The overflow throng earlier had seen darkhorse Bill Dwyer, former Brown University sprinter, equal the world indoor record for the 60-yard dash as he scored an upset trumph in 6.1 seconds.

Dwyer, representing the Rhode Island Officials' Association, flashed to victory in a four-man final before 15,000 fans at Madison Square Garden, barely edging a field that included national champion Ed Conwell of Jersey City.

Conwell was second, inches in front of Tom Carey of the New York Pioneer Club. Bill Mathis of Washington, D. C., former national out-door sprint king, wound up fourth.

Dwyer's time tied the world indoor mark held jointly by Carey, Conwell and five other sprinters.

George Guida of Villanova, unbeaten this season, edged Frank Fox of Seton Hall by two yards in taking the Mel Sheppard 600 in 1:12.3.

Harrison Dillard of Cleveland, Ohio, won the 60-yard high hurdles, as expected, stepping the high sticks in 7.3 seconds.

Tom Comerford of Manhattan led all the way to take the 880-yard run for his fifth straight triumph of the season.

Sonners Dump Iowa State 55-52

NORMAN, Okla., Jan. 29—(AP)—The University of Oklahoma dumped Iowa State 55-52 here tonight in a Big Seven Conference basketball game that went into one overtime period.

Some 4,000 persons watched O. U. whip Iowa State for the third time this year.

The Sooners were trailing by two points when Marcus Freiberger found the basket just before the gun sounded in regulation play to knot the score at 51-all.

The Sooners' Wayne Glasgow put his team in front in the overtime with a free throw, but Gaylord Anderson then counted a gift shot to tie the score at 52-52.

Pau Merchant increased the score to 54-42 with a crip shot and a minute later he ended the scoring with a free throw.

The halftime score was 26-25, Iowa State in front.

Hogan Moves Into Third Lead Round

By Jack Stevenson

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 29—(AP)—Ben Hogan, the Hereshey, Pa., golfing king, equalled the Phoenix Country Club competitive golf record of 64 today as he moved into a third round lead in the $10,000 Phoenix open with a 204.

Hogan finished with a pair of birdies as his approach shot landed within six feet of the pin on the 17th to give him a three and he chipped on the 18th within two feet of the flag.

Kentucky State Beats Lincoln U

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Jan. 29—(AP)—Kentucky State College for Negroes defeated Lincoln University of Jefferson City 58 to 43 tonight in a rough basketball game.

Best Bowler is One Who Picks Up Spares With Good Counts, Stresses Joe Wilman

Joe Wilman demonstrates that a strike ball hooks into the 1-3 pocket toward the 5-pin, as diagramed.

By Harry Grayson
NEA Sports Editor

Joe Wilman, demonstrating that a strike ball hooks into the 1-3 pocket toward the 5-pin, as diagramed, is one of the great bowlers of all time.

This introduction of Wilman will serve as the first of a series of bowling lessons.

Wilman streamlines the game in a new twelve-part illustrated series under his signature and aptly titled "Spare Time."

In it, the Chicago master gives a champion's viewpoint on how to pick up spares.

He stresses the point that the star bowler is one who can pick up spares with good counts and knowing, of course, that he will get his share of strikes. Spare bowling, therefore, is a most important study.

In his first piece, Wilman tells how to play alleys, no two being the same. Then, in order, he goes into the 6-10, 2-4-5 and 1-2-4 spares, the short hook, pocket hit, baby split, fit in shots, the railroad, the sharp hook, the nose hit and the try for one.

Wilman won the national individual match game championship in December of 1945. In the ensuing season, he compiled an amazing bowling record, knocking off sweepers and classics with such ease that shrewd observers began to call him the greatest bowler in history.

Just to prove he wasn't fooling, Wilman won the all-events title in the 1946 tournament of the American Bowling Congress.

ABC titles, however, were old stuff to Wilman, since he won the ABC all-events crown in 1939 and led his team to the ABC championship in '42.

He is the only pinman ever to score more than 2,000 twice in ABC tournament competition.

He holds the ABC high two-year average of 219.9, the four-year average of 212.7 and the high five-year average of 214.37. His ABC 10-year average is 205.27.

Joe Wilman has also shared the national match game doubles championship.

No one is better qualified to help the bowler improve his score.

Black, Pitcher, Out by Injury Is Back Again

CLEVELAND, Jan. 29—(AP)—Don Black, the pitcher who was struck out by a serious injury, came back today.

Bill Veeck, president of the Cleveland Indians, took a look at the latest medical report and signed the Tribe hurler to a 1949 contract.

With a big grin, Black signed on the dotted line for a salary that was the "same as last year." The figure wasn't announced.

"I couldn't very well ask for a raise, could I?" quipped the Indian pitcher.

Veeck had refused to listen to Black's entreaties until today. He maintained he could not take any responsibility for placing a player's life in jeopardy and had told Black that while he hoped for his recovery, he could not sign him as a player.

Something Snapped

Black was at the plate in Cleveland Stadium Sept. 13, against the St. Louis Browns, as the Tribe drove down the home stretch toward the American league pennant and the world championship. Something snapped and he collapsed.

Doctors found he had suffered an aneurysm—a broken artery—at the back of the brain.

Dr. Spencer Braden reported to Veeck today that the latest x-ray examinations showed there was "no possibility of any recurrence of the injury."

The surgeon said the artery condition had existed from birth, but that the operation had made Black "better than he was 10 years ago, except that his long hospitalization weakened him."

Ace Admiral Whips Eleven Four-year-olds

Collects $85,200 In Mile and Quarter Over Fast Track

ARCADIA, Calif., Jan. 29—(AP)—The favored Ace Admiral, a handsome Tennessee-bred chestnut, captured the second running of the $100,000 Santa Anita maturity today, whipping eleven other four-year-old before 52,000 turf fans, largest of the season at Santa Anita Park.

Grabbing the lead a few strides after breaking from the gate, Ace Admiral owned by Mrs. Elizabeth Graham of New York, staved off all challenges in the mile and one-quarter battle over a fast track and collected $85,200 in this rich race reserved for the four-year-old division.

Half a length behind in second place was the Foxcatcher Farm's Rose Beam, with wealthy owner William Du Pont, Jr., watching from the packed turf club veranda. Third spot went to Dinner Gong, owned by Abe Hirschberg of San Francisco.

Perfectly Run Race

Jockey Johnny Gilbert, in a masterly ride aboard the son of Helio-Polis, guided Ace Admiral over the route in 2-02 1-5, in a perfectly run race for an added pot of money aggregating $137,000.

Ace Admiral was bred by Miss Mildred Woolwine at her Franklin, Tenn., farm and was purchased by Mrs. Graham's Maine Chance Farm for $30,000 in 1946.

The victory brought Ace Admiral's winning up to $167,525.

Trailing in order behind the top trio were Vulcan's Forge, Mas-Miget, Danada Gift, Manyunk, Oration, Solidarity, Make-up Man, Lurline B., and Quarter Pole.

Ace Admiral was coupled with Solidarity and rewarded the form players with a payoff of $6.70, $3.40 and $2.50.

Rose Beam, ridden by Michael Caffarella, was coupled with the Foxcatcher's Manyunk, and paid $6.20 and $4.10. Dinner Gong, with Eddie Arcaro aboard, paid $3.70.

Warrensburg Wins Over St. Benedicts

WARRENSBURG, Mo., Jan. 29—(AP)—The Warrensburg Missouri State Mules, paced by a strong three-man scoring attack, defeated the St. Benedict's College Ravens 62-50 in a non-conference basketball game Friday night.

Harold Salmon, with 17 points paced the Mules' attack. Artie Elwell scored 15 and Jim Baile 14. Jim Oldani got 14 points for St. Benedict's, the Central Kansas conference league leader. Warrensburg led 35-28 at the half.

St. Louis Drenches Wichita 72-14

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 29—(AP)—The St. Louis University Billikens steam-rollered the underdog Wichita Shockers tonight, 72 to 41. It was the Bills thirteenth victory in 14 games this year and their 72 points was their second highest total for the year.

Luke Appling, Dixie Walker, In 2,000 Club

Lifetime Leader's Among Today's Active Performers

NEW YORK, Jan. 29—(AP)—Ted Williams and Stan Musial may have been the big stickmen in their respective leagues last year, but the lifetime leaders among today's active performers are a couple of veterans, Luke Appling and Fred (Dixie) Walker.

Luke and Dixie are the only current big leaguers who are members of the exclusive 2,000 hit club. At one time last season, there were five on the roster, but the release of Doc Cramer, Joe Medwick and Arky Vaughn cut the membership to two.

Appling, the veteran shortstop, who will be starting his 18th season with the Chicago White Sox next April at the ripe old age of 40, has collected 2,571 base hits. The 38-year-old Walker, still a regular with Pittsburgh after 16 seasons in the big time, has banged out 2,013 hits.

Appling Ranks Third

Appling also tops all players with 1,229 runs scored and 416 twobase hits. He ranks third in the American League with 93 triples, and second in runs batted in with 1,045.

Walker leads the National League with 1,011 runs and 372 doubles. He is third with 95 triples, seventh with 104 home runs, and trails only Johnny Mize of the New York Giants with 1,005 runs batted in. Mize, who also paces the National league with 297 home runs, has sent 1,096 mates across the plates in his 10 big league seasons.

Lifetime slugging honors, however, fall to Joe DiMaggio of the New York Yankees. The brilliant flychaser is the majors' only century man in doubles, triples and homers. He leads in the three departments. Although he has completed only 10 years in the majors, DiMag already has batted in 1,227 runs, clouted 303 home runs and 111 triples. His 320 doubles is fourth high in the American league.

Wally Moses Knocking on Door

Barring injury, Joe is almost certain to join Appling in the 2,000 hit club. With 1,853 already in the batbag, he needs only 147 more to make it. He collected 190 assorted base knocks last year. In the runs department DiMaggio is second with 1,146.

Wally Moses, veteran outfielder of the Philadelphia Athletics, is another who is knocking on the door of the 2,000 hit club. He needs only 43 more to receive membership. The 38-year-old Georgian may find the going rough, however, as he is not expected to see much action in '49. With 1,011 runs, 394 doubles, and 102 triples, Moses ranks among the top men in those departments.

Williams probably would also have been up there in all batting departments had he not lost three years due to the war. At that, he is not far away, ranking second in home runs, fourth in runs scored and fourth in runs batted in despite only seven years under the big tent.

Jayhawks Win Over Creighton

LAWRENCE, Kas., Jan. 29—(AP)—Big Gene Peterson hit 34 points for a new individual scoring record at the University of Kansas as the Jayhawks triumphed easily over Creighton tonight 79 to 50.

The old K.U. record of 33 points was set by Charley Black in 1943 against Missouri.

After a slow start the Jayhawkers banged the hoop regularly to stay ahead all evening. They led at the half 31-15.

Meanwhile the tight Kansas defense held Creighton without a field goal for the first eight minutes.

Bill Montgomery dropped in the first fielder for the Omaha quintet, which trailed at the time 3-20.

Peterson made 15 field goals and four free throws for his record.

The victory evened the 10-game series between the two schools at five decisions each.

Pirates Buy Murry Dickson

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 29—(AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates stepped up their 1949 rebuilding plans today by releasing catcher Clyde Kluttz and buying pitcher Murry Dickson from the St. Louis Cardinals.

The purchase price for the 31-year-old Dickson, a slim right-hander, was not disclosed. Fred M. Saigh, new principal stockholder of the Cards, completed the deal by telephone late today with A. Roy Hamey, Pirate general manager.

Kluttz, a teammate of Dickson's on the Cards' world champion team of 1946, was released to Indianapolis of the American Association. He was a leading hitter for the Bucs in 1947 with a .302 average but he was injured much of 1948 and his batting average slipped to .221.

The Dickson-Kluttz deals completed a busy weekend for the Pirates. They also cut adrift pitcher Edson Bahr, catcher Leroy Jarvis and outfielder Max West. Bahr went to Indianapolis, Jarvis to San Francisco of the Pacific Coast league and West was released unconditionally.

Heads Walker Cup Team

NEW YORK, Jan 29—(AP)—Francis Ouimet of Boston, gentleman golfer of American lines, was named captain today of the U.S. 1949 Walker Cup team which will oppose the British at Mamaroneck, N. J., on Aug. 19 and 20.

Ouimet, only person who has participated in all previous cup matches in some capacity, accepted the honor to lead the U.S. team of nine players, still to be named.

Feeding Quail From Planes

ST. JOSEPH, Jan. 29—(AP)—Quail feeding grounds in four counties were bombarded with grain from three planes today.

The State Conservation Commission, fearing the quail would perish because of the deep snow, provided cracked corn in five-pound bags. Two St. Joseph plane owners donated use of their craft and a National Guard plane was supplied.

Dick Jones, outdoor writer for the St. Joseph News-Press, who flew in one of the planes, said brush piles, hedge rows and stream banks, inaccessible from the ground, were bombarded. The bags all burst when they hit the crusted snow.

Railroad engineers and firemen are scattering grain along tracks in this area, also.

Morrison Coach At Austin College

SHERMAN, Tex., Jan. 29—(AP)—Ray Morrison today became head football coach of Austin college. He resigned last Thursday as head mentor of Temple University.

Morrison formerly coached at Southern Methodist University and Vanderbilt.

He succeeds Will Pierce as coach of Austin college, which is a member of the Texas Conference. Pierce resigned Dec. 6 after being coach two years.

The length of contract and salary were not disclosed by Austin college officials.

Swimming Meet at Ames, Ia.

AMES, Ia. Jan. 29—(AP)—Iowa State college swamped Kansas, 65-19, in a Big Seven Conference swimming meet here today.

The Iowans won every event in the meet. In only one event—the 440-yard free style—did the Jayhawks capture more than one place. The Cyclones finished one-two in five events, but did not sweep any. The 120 yard medley relay was cancelled.

Cardinal Mgr. Dyer Out to Get New Faces

Youth Emphasis Coming Out of Their Conferences

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 29—(AP)—The new management of the St. Louis Cardinals appears to be heading into a full-blown youth movement.

New owner Fred M. Saigh has said he thinks the fans want new faces. So did Bob Hannegan before he sold out three days ago.

And so does Manager Eddie Dyer, who spent yesterday and today talking things over with Boss Saigh.

They took time out from the youth emphasis coming out of the continued management conferences to welcome 34-year-old southpaw Harry Brecheen with open arms and an open check book.

Brecheen was signed with little oratory and even less haggling for a reported $5,000 boost over his $20,000 of last year.

"There are two ways to run your ball club," Dyer said during an intermission in conferences with Saigh. "You can use what you feel through experience is your best lineup every day and try to win every game. The fans always prefer that.

Must Have Experience

"Or you can try out your younger players, hoping to win but looking to the future. They must have experience if they are ever to help you. And of course the rookies will make mistakes."

Just which method Saigh prefers was one of the topics for discussion, along with plans for the minor league farm system which Dyer and others think has not been yielding sufficient bumper crops in recent years.

Although Saigh and Dyer believe the club can win the pennant this season, the additional of several new men from the minor clubs is certain.

Dyer mentioned reliable Stan Musical as a last resort at first base, where Nippy Jones is facing his sophomore season after a shaky start.

But Dyer's most vexing problem is center field.

Need A Strong Arm

"It's a question of strength of arm but if Red Schoendienst shows he can throw, I'm sure he'll fill centerfield for us," Dyer said.

Dyer already is planning to give Solly Hemus, Houston's second base prospect and "an Eddy Stanky type" a whirl at that position. Tommy Glaviano, the tobacco-chewing Pepper Martin, Jr., from Columbus, will get tryouts at third, short and second.

"Glaviano and Eddie Kazak will be given good opportunities at third base. That's Whitey Kurowski's job only if he can win it back."

Eddie likes reports he's had on Larry Ciaffonne, a fellow the Cards took from Brooklyn two years ago by way of the draft. Converted from a third baseman and outfielder into a catcher, he led Allentown of the Class B Interstate league last year with .373.

He also has looked longingly at Glenn Nelson, the lefthand hitting first baseman from Rochester.

"One thing I'm sure of," he said, "I'm going to keep a first baseman's mitt somewhere near Musial."

Free Grain for Starving Quail

Any interested groups may contact Mr. Wollet at 120 West Main street, to receive the free grain for distribution.

The Missouri Conservation Commission has declared a statewide emergency because of the present weather conditions, and is furnishing funds for purchase of the grain. The local Chapter also purchased 100 poun

Bell Reports Low Earnings

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 29—(AP)—The Southwestern Bell Telephone company reported Friday that earnings on total capital invested in the business fell to an all-time low of 4.09 per cent last year, as compared with 4.41 per cent in 1947.

Dividend payments, which were reduced to $5.75 per share in 1947 from $9 paid in all but two of the preceding 11 years, were again reduced in 1948, to $5.

Operating revenues of $226,752,579 for 1948 were 20 per cent higher than for 1947, due to the increase in telephones in service and to rate increases in Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas, the company reported. However, operating expenses and taxes also increased 20 percent in 1948, going from $173,188,354 to $208,099,337.

Roads To Meet Need Proposed

Commission in Accord to Spend On Legislature Recommendation

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 29 — (AP) — Gov. Forrest Smith's special road committee wound up three days of hearings late Friday by exchanging views with the state highway commission.

The committee meets again here Feb. 23 to formulate a definite road program for the legislature. The committee decided no policies Friday, but many witnesses have recommended doubling the present two cent a gallon gasoline tax.

An attorney general's opinion that the legislature has no authority to earmark funds turned over to the highway commission also was read to the groups.

Members of the commission told the advisory road group that they would follow legislative recommendations on how such funds should be spent

"The duty of the highway commission is to provide a road program to meet the needs of the state," John J. Powers commission chairman, said.

He pledged the commission would work with the legislature in developing Missouri's roads.

Carry Out Wishes Of People

J. G. Morgan of Unionville, commission vice chairman, said the commission would carry out the wishes of the people. He added there is no such thing as city versus rural interest in the road question.

"It is a statewide, community interest," he said.

The commission wants a sound road program to give ultimate service to every person in the state, Morgan asserted.

Commission member John C. Harlin of Gainesville told the group "a different setup is needed" to provide better roads. He said the backlog of funds accumulated during the war soon would be gone and something else has to be done.

The other commission member —J. R. Lucy of Parma, agreed.

The attorney general's opinion was called for to help the committee decide the type of legislation needed to provide more secondary roads. Wide variations of opinion had been expressed in the hearing as to whether the legislature could tell the highway commission how and where to spend funds allocated to it.

Although the opinion said the commission has sole jurisdiction over how its funds were spent, it suggested the legislature pass measures recommending how the money be used.

Lue C. Lozier, chief counsel of the highway department, read the opinion. He told the committee he thought the commission would regard suggestions made in legislation as directives and follow them.

Earlier Prentiss Mooney, publicity director of the division of resources and development, said an increased gasoline tax would not interfere with Missouri's $200,000,000 a year tourist trade.

He said some complaints had been received about a few state secondary roads from out-state tourists.

Named to Algoa Reformatory

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Jan. 29—(AP)—Gov. Forrest Smith appointed Gus J. Larrabee of Platte City superintendent of the Intermediate Men's Reformatory at Algoa today.

He succeeds Thomas J. Cross, resigned.

Larabee, 58, is a Democrat like his predecessor. Currently he is chief inspector in the bus and truck division of the Missouri Public Service Commission.

He formerly was a merchant and in the insurance and bond business at Platte City. He was labor agent for the Kansas City Southern Railway and came to Jefferson City in 1933 in the bond business.

The appointment is effective Feb. 1 but Smith explained the new superintendent will have to pass a merit system examination

The intermediate reformatory, situated on a hill overlooking the Missouri river east of here, is for offenders between 17 and 25. The population now is about 270.

Some of the "incorrigibles" transferred from the state training school for boys at Boonville to the penitentiary last year were shifted later to Algoa.

Joe Appleman has been acting superintendent since Cross resigned earlier this month.

Special Appeal To Feed Quail

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 29—(AP)—Missouri's quail need your help.

The State Conservation Commission issued a special appeal Friday for everyone in the ice and snow area of the state to feed quail and other wildlife.

The commission is continuing its regular winter program of providing feed for a few Sportsmen's Clubs and other organized groups. But when bad weather keeps coming, it has to ask everyone to help.

Usually quail and most other wildlife can do without food for as long as five days But one ice storm after another wears them down.

Paul Q. Tulenko, chief of the game section, outlined the critical situation today.

The best food is cracked corn, he said, because it provides the most body warming and energy producing elements. A pound of cracked corn will feed a covey of 16 quail one day. Of course songbirds and other wildlife will get some of it.

"Food should be scattered—not piled—in natural sheltered areas, changing the location each time it is placed. Tests have determined that grit is not necessary in these emergency periods. Take more grain out instead."

Southern Pacific to Reduce Shop Forces

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29—(AP) The Southern Pacific Friday announced that 2,520 employes in its shop forces would be laid off January 31.

The company said the personnel reduction was caused by a decline in traffic, primarily due to the extremely cold weather.

The reduction in the total employment of 19,000 persons will apply to the Pacific lines, west of Ogden, Utah, and El Paso, Texas, and south of Portland, Ore.

It is estimated that approximately 10 per cent of the hay crop of the United States is destroyed by fire every year.

Wants to See Dairying is Protected

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29—(AP)—Rep. Christopher (D-Mo) told the House in his maiden speech that since he came to Washington it has been "thrown in my face that I am dominated by the dairy lobby."

He told the members that up to now he has no idea what a dairy lobbyist looks like.

"Up to this minute I have never seen one," he said, and neither have I seen a lobbyist for the margarine industry. As far as I know there are none of them."

But, he added, he does represent dairy farmers and is "irrevocably opposed to oleomargarine being sold in the markets of the United States colored yellow."

"I am ready to vote for the repeal of all taxes on oleomargarine," he said, "if they will color it red, or color it green, or color it purple or leave it white."

Saying half the nation's topsoil already is gone, Christopher, a farmer added:

"In the interests of soil conservation, I want to see the dairy cow and the dairy farmer protected."
